	Question: Most effective learning aspects of course
	The most effective aspects of the class were the group discussions and "golden nuggets" of each class.
	The lectures, they were very interesting to listen to.
	To me, the most effective aspects of this course were the in class lectures because Dr. Koch kept my interest and he has so many stories to tell.
	Small group discussions with the professor helped keep us on track and lots of guidance helped us create our best work over the course of the semester.
	The profesor telling stories was very helpful because it helps me pay attention.
	The group discussions where we did our show and tell and found our golden nugget because I got to know my classmates better and I felt like I knew more about the concepts Professor Koch talked about much more better after.
	This was a part of the honors program, so the classes were smaller, and I felt like the learning environment was better.
	Question: Least effective learning aspects of course
	The least effective thing was the journals that we did before the classes.
	The length of the lectures was a bit too long.
	The least effective aspects of this course were the weekly reading journals because I often skimmed over the lengthy readings instead of taking time to fully read the materials.
	Heavy pre-class reading for journal entries often felt boring and repetitive.

	The talking in groups was the least effective aspect of the course because it went on to long.
	Nothing I can add.
	The class was only once a week for 3 hours, so It was a dread to go to. I would rather have shorter class periods and more of them.

Koch	Amazing Instructor.
Koch	Dr. Koch is one of the nicest and most interesting people I have ever met. I will genuinely miss him as my professor.
Koch	Extremely entertaining, kind, interesting person. The lessons were engaging stories instead of just spitting facts at us and he took the time to get to know each of us, making sure we knew he cared about us as people as well as students. Fabulous guy i give him a 10/10.
Koch	Great professor! Hope your next semester goes well.
Koch	Dr. Koch was incredible and made everyone feel included in all of his lectures. We built a professional relationship because he truly cares for his students. He taught us harsh topics but ensured we were all comfortable with the subject. Overall, he is a great teacher who brings professionalism with humility.
